Time and Place

volume two:
Sussex
1976 to 2008

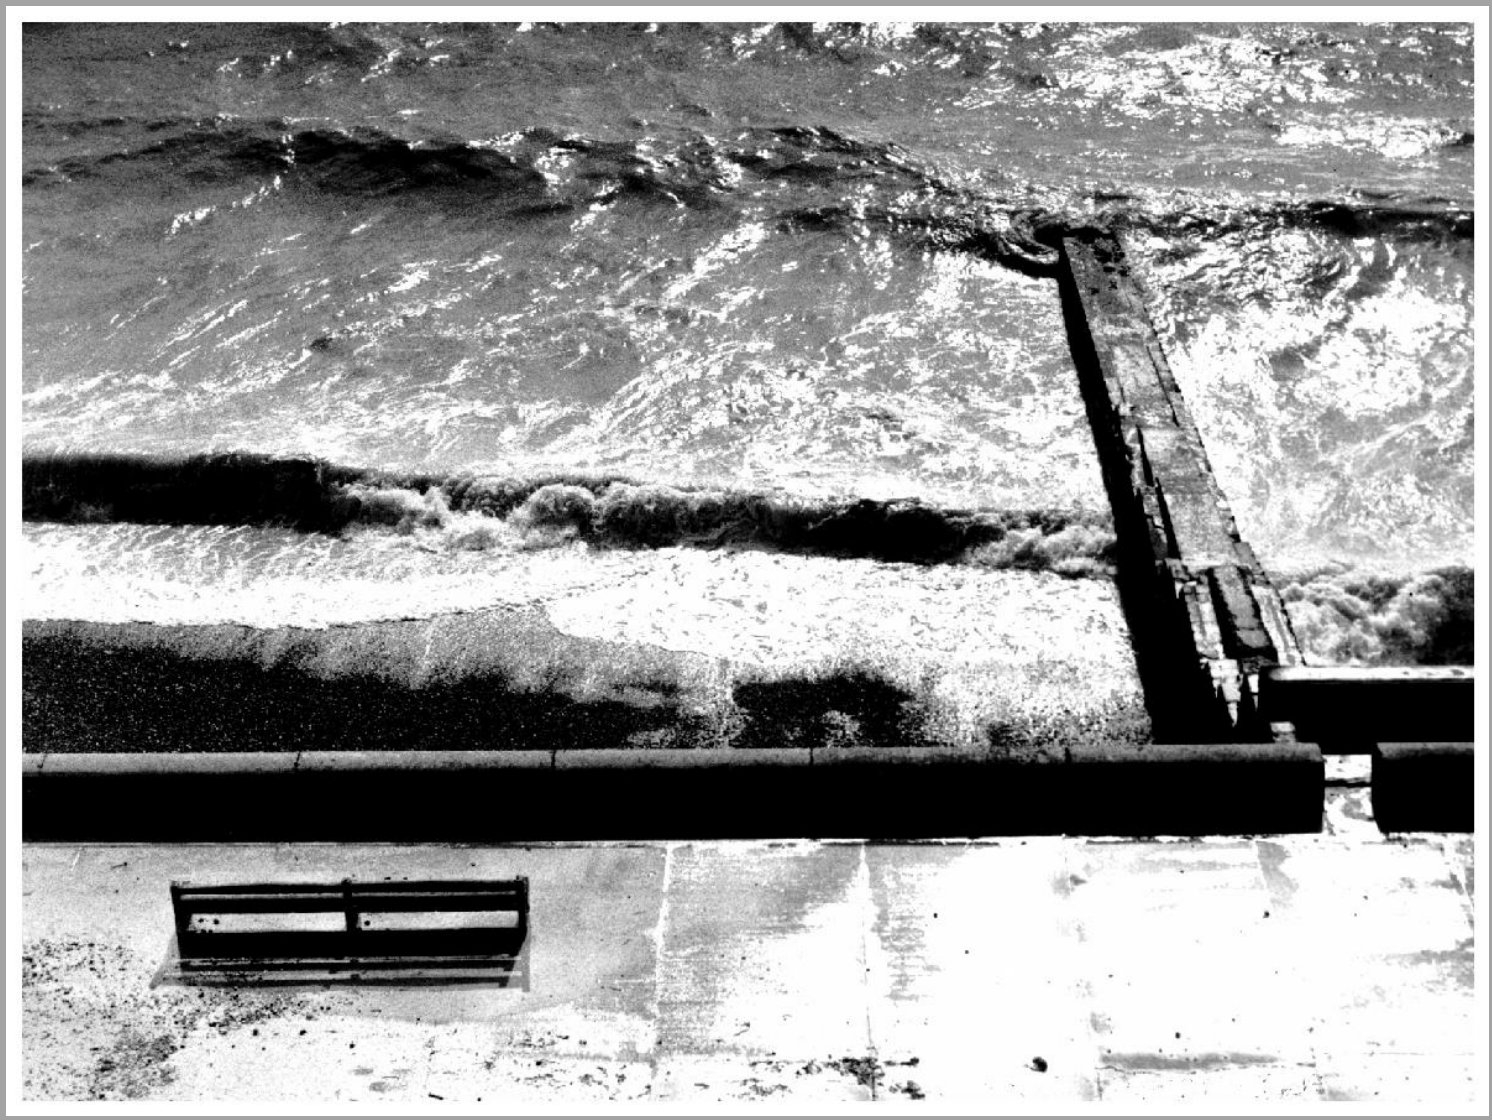
Bob Trubshaw

For less than a year straddling the winter of 1976–7 and the summer of 1977 I lived at Rottingdean, on the East Sussex coast. I walked over the South Downs almost every weekend and also cycled. At least one camera kept me company on these adventures.

In the late 1980s I frequently visited Horsham and the surrounding area, and from time to time I still travel through Sussex.

This compilation was prepared in June 2017.

Bob Trubshaw



Rottingdean sea front, 1976

South Downs near Brighton, 1976

Brighton, circa 1978

Wakehurst Place, mid-1980s

Eastbourne, mid-1980s

Eastbourne, mid-1980s

Alfriston, 1988

Chanctonbury Ring, August 1986.

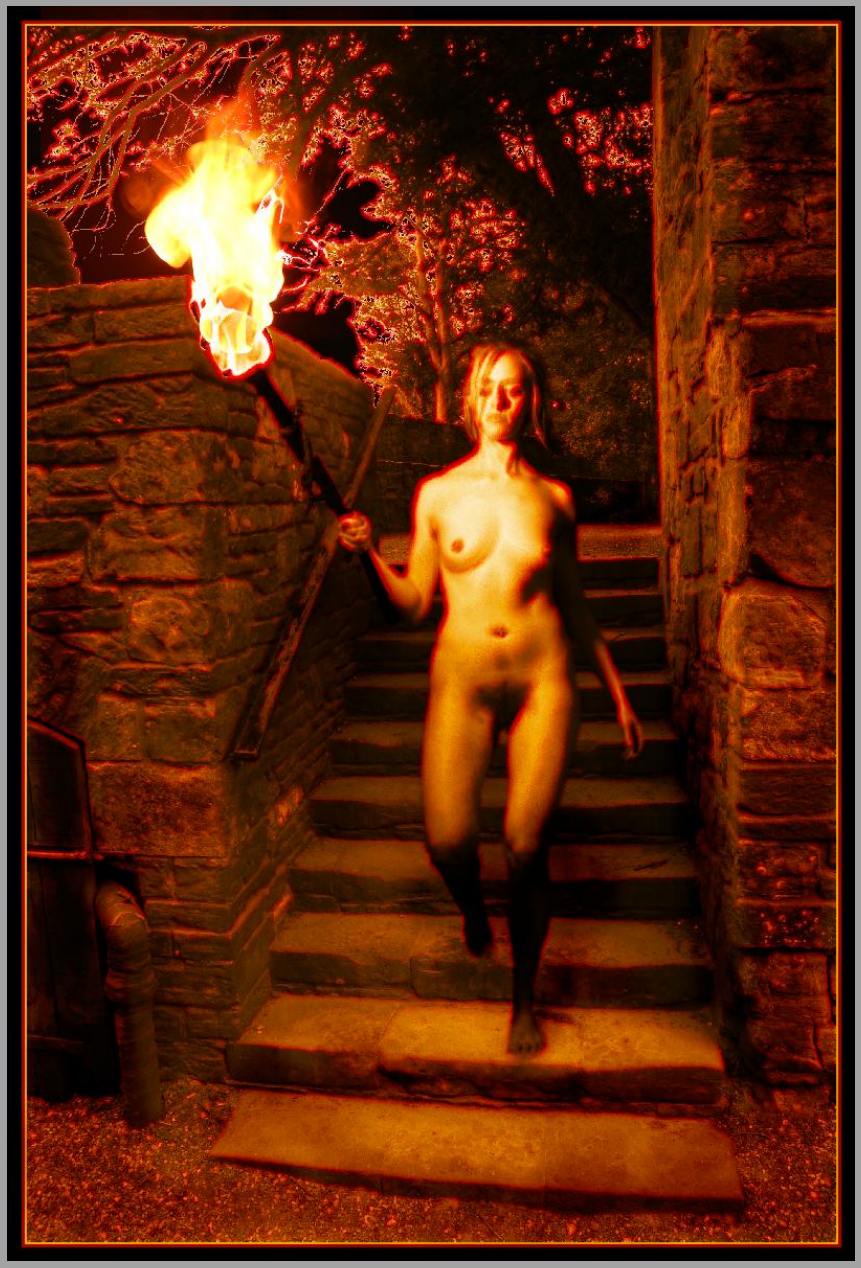
Many of these beech trees were uprooted by the Great Storm in October 1987.

38 Long leaves

Impromptu 'art installation', St Leonard's Forest, 1987

Rye, 2007

Southease, 2008



Photomontage created 2007 using a photograph of steps at Battle Abbey