The second stage is purification, otherwise called albedo.
The Prima Materia is washed and turns a brilliant white.
It is commonly symbolised by the moon or the lily.

The bones are telling us nothing.
We're waiting for a sign
But they're telling us nothing

We turn three times to the water
We're waiting for a sign to guide us.

The bones are telling us nothing.
The stones are staying silent.
We turn three times waiting for a sign.
